

Action on Elder Abuse Scotland
National conference – 27 October 2017
(in association with Scottish Care)

Choice, Empowerment, Protection..... Can We Achieve Them All?

A human-right's based approach to supporting, empowering & protecting older people

Conference Details

Venue: Hilton Hotel, William Street, Glasgow

Date: 27 October 2017

While the aims of Scotland's unique adult support and protection framework are to identify, support and protect those at risk of harm or abuse, many practitioners still struggle with the tensions between individual autonomy and 'state' protection. Is it possible to support and protect adults at risk of harm, while ensuring choice and empowerment for the individual?

Come along and join the discussion on:

- whether or not current measures for protecting vulnerable adults in Scotland contain appropriate safeguards and promote individual empowerment
- managing tensions between individual autonomy and adult support and protection
- facilitating and promoting human rights in challenging economic circumstances in health and social care
- balancing human rights and risks in care delivery
- advocacy and empowerment
- tackling financial harm in a familial context
- supporting those who self-neglect

Find out more and book your place here: <https://www.elderabuse.org.uk/events-scotland>

World Elder Abuse Awareness Day is on 15 June 2018. It will be its 13th Year and we want it to be an important date for everyone.

Please join with us in doing an event and raising awareness of Elder Abuse.

Email: enquiries@elderabuse.org.uk