

Free training on evaluating your impact ...sessions starting soon!

Do you feel that you effectively capture and demonstrate your impact? Does your organisation need development on how to evaluate your work? Do you have limited training resources?

We are teaming with Evaluation Support Scotland to provide FREE training on the demonstrating impact for both novice and more experienced third/public sector staff/volunteers. The first sessions are starting soon and you can sign up for one session or the full suite of sessions to get a firm grasp on evaluating.

The trainings are full day trainings (10am – 4pm, lunch provided). Register by emailing nhs.healthscotland-wdteam@nhs.net.

Let's evaluate! Training Programme

- Getting started: Outcomes and Indicators - Need to show the difference you make and don't know where to start? Want to learn to write clear outcomes or set indicators to help measure that you are achieving your outcomes? This starter workshop is designed to do just that!

Monday 19 Feb @ Quality Scotland, Edinburgh

Tuesday 20 Feb @ Victim Support Scotland, Glasgow

Monday 26 Feb @ Civic Lounge, Perth

- Make to measure: Evaluation Methods and Plans - Come to this fun, interactive workshop to learn about different methods and tools, from body maps and wheels to videos and poetry! Make to Measure will inspire you to collect evidence creatively that shows you are achieving your outcomes. You will also learn how to put a monitoring and evaluation plan in place.

Tuesday 27 Feb @ Premier Inn George Square, Glasgow

Thursday 1 March @ Quality Scotland, Edinburgh

- Telling my story: Analysing and Reporting on Outcomes- Make the most of all the evidence you have gathered and learn how to analyse and use it to tell your story! This energising workshop will empower you to improve your project delivery and reporting on outcomes to funders and stakeholders

Tuesday 6 March @ Alzheimer Scotland Learning Lounge, Glasgow

Thursday 15 March @ COSLA, Edinburgh

These trainings have been programmed by the Collaborative Learning on Inequalities working/steering groups which is a partnership between NHS Health Scotland and a range of third/public sector organisations like Voluntary Action Scotland, Poverty Alliance, and the SCVO.
