

A Connected Scotland: tackling social isolation and loneliness

For dissemination to you networks:

Please note that the Scottish Government's tackling social isolation and loneliness draft strategy is now open for consultation.

The Minister for Social Security, Ms Freeman, launched the Scottish Government's draft strategy to tackle social isolation and loneliness for consultation.

Stakeholders and community groups can respond to the consultation here, and there are also a number of events we'll be hosting (details here).

Please feel free to share. Any queries can be directed to AConnectedScotland@gov.scot.

