

Care Experience Week

On the 26th October, during Care Experience Week, we are organising our first public show of support for care experienced people. It's the first time in the history of Who Cares? Scotland we are claiming the public space with a Love Rally. This will take place at St Enoch's Square at 12 noon and will be finished by 2pm. The march will be going up the 'style mile'. It would be amazing if you could show your support by attending. Information to register is below:

Friday 26 October – Lifetime of Love Rally!

Join us as we march through Glasgow to demonstrate our commitment to a lifetime of equality, respect and love for all Care Experienced people. We will follow a route through the centre of the city and gather at an iconic location where there will be inspirational words, songs and speeches. All Care Experienced people and allies of the movement are welcome – please join us and show your love for Care Experienced people.

We are currently working with the relevant authorities to confirm our route and details will be announced closer to the time. For now, please register your interest to attend for the rally here.

In addition to the Rally event we are also having our first ever Global Care Gathering, this our first conference organised and led by care experienced young people. The gathering will have visitors with care experience from Australia, Ireland, Wales, England, Jersey, New Zealand and a live link from India. The care experienced team members in Renfrewshire are delivering a workshop at the event – the only Scottish entry. Registration is below for more info. Its on Saturday 27th October.

Saturday 27 October – Global Care Family Gathering

10.00 to 16.00 – The Greenwood Conference Centre, Greenwood Gate, Dreghorn, Irvine, KA11 4GZ

The first of its kind, this conference will be curated and delivered entirely by Care Experienced people and will set out a global ambition for change beyond borders. A series of inspirational speakers from across the globe will share insights on their experiences of care, and Care Experienced people from across the world will be supported to connect over their shared identities.

Breakfast rolls, refreshments and lunch will be provided.

This Gathering has been made possible thanks to the generous support given from North Ayrshire Council's CEO, Elma Murray.
