

Cares Got Talent – 29 November 2018

Who Cares? Scotland are hosting a National “Care’s Got Talent” showcase on the 29th November 2018 at University West of Scotland Paisley at 6.30PM. Some of you might remember we had one 2 years ago and we are glad to say thanks to Year of the Young People funding we are able to host another one.

This is a fantastic opportunity for care experienced young people up to the age of 26 to showcase their amazing skills and talents.

Firstly, we need your help to get the word out to young people who have a talent they would like to perform. Please can you use the poster attached to pass on to care experienced young people. If they wish to perform they must sign up as soon as possible, and ideally should be able to attend a preview session in our Glasgow National Office on the 15th November 2018.

They should register their details on this form: <https://www.surveymonkey.co.uk/r/CP2JD2L>

Please help young people if they need it to fill in the Survey Monkey. All sections must be completed as we need these details to get in touch with them with regards to the event.

Secondly, we would like to invite you and the young people you work with to attend the event. It should be a fun evening showcase of singing, music, poetry, rap, comedy and other creative talent, and will be hosted by Glasgow comedian, Rob Kane. If you would like to be part of the audience, please register here: <https://caresgottalent.eventbrite.co.uk>

We would still welcome additional care experienced young people (aged 8-26) to join the organising committee for Care’s Got Talent. They must be able to travel to Paisley for meetings and be interested in helping organising the event, but they don’t need to perform.

If you or your young people have any questions, please contact us as renfrewshire@whocarescotland.org
