

The Truacanta Project

The Truacanta Project will work with up to four communities in Scotland to develop activities designed to improve people's experiences of death, dying, loss and care.

We are currently inviting expressions of interest from any individual, project, group or organisation interested in applying to be part of the project. A number of those will be shortlisted and supported to put together a full application. From those, up to four communities will be selected in December and supported to plan and develop activities to begin in March 2020, and will receive dedicated community development support and advice over a two year period after that. We're accepting expressions of interest until 15th June.
