

FREE accredited CPD family conflict resolution training opportunity.
Please feel free to also pass on to anyone of interest.

When: Wednesday, 5th December 2018 from 10:00 to 16:00

Where: Inverclyde, venue tbc

To register your FREE place click here

The subject of conflict resolution is vast; however, this training identifies generic core elements that individuals, irrespective of their role, will benefit from. The accredited CPD training will give participants the opportunity to reflect on and understand some of the dynamics of conflict within relationships. Benefits of attending the training include networking with like-minded individuals, peer education, refreshing, complimenting existing knowledge and skills, gaining additional knowledge and learning.

Who is it for?

The course is aimed at practitioners working with families, parents and young people and has been designed in such a way that it allows the practitioner to share their knowledge and experience with like-minded individuals. The delivery is informal and is a mix of presentation, discussion, activity and evaluation.

The Scottish Centre for Conflict Resolution is a national resource centre promoting and supporting best practice in mediation, family conflict resolution and early intervention. Through our free events, as well as online resources, the SCCR aims to encourage young people, their families and organisations to develop conflict resolutions skills to improve both relationships and life chances and ultimately reduce youth homelessness.

To register your FREE place click here

For further information on this and all other SCCR training and events being held across Scotland, please contact our Event Organiser, Caroline Ross, on carolineross@cyrenians.scot or call 0131 475 2493.