Are you pregnant or have you recently had a baby?

Would you like to take part in research about anxiety and mental health problems in pregnancy and after birth?

Who?

We would like to talk to women who have, and who have not, experienced anxiety at this time, and who live in south east England or central Scotland.

What?

We are interested in your views on some questionnaires that may be used to screen anxiety and other mental health problems.

How?

Participation involves completing a questionnaire and taking part in a face-to-face interview with a researcher, lasting up to 90 minutes, at a location convenient for you.

At this stage we simply would like to know if you are interested in taking part. If you are, then we will get in touch to discuss things in more detail. Getting in touch does not commit you to taking part in this study.

Please email, text, or call us, we would love to hear from you:

Rose.Coates@City.ac.uk (07594 233762) if you are based in England

Andrea.Sinesi@Stir.ac.uk (07522 450407) if you are based in Scotland

This study is funded by the National Institute for Health Research (NIHR) [Health Service and Delivery programme (Grant Reference Number 17/105/16)].
