Suicide TALK

safeTALK (Suicide Alertness for Everyone)

ASIST (Applied Suicide Intervention Skills Training)

SMHFA (Scotland's Mental Health First Aid – adult version)

What's The Harm ? (Self Harm Awareness)

Courses Available

suicideTALK is a short exploration and awareness raising session of one to three hours. It is flexible to meet the needs of each group. suicideTALK is aimed at all members and groups within communities.

It is practice -oriented and allows open and honest dialogue for anyone interested in attending. It lasts between one and three hours with content adapted to the needs of the group.

By dispelling the myth that talking about suicide promotes suicidal behaviour, suicideTALK provides a solid foundation for suicide prevention. It aims to reduce stigma around suicide and promote awareness within the community. It also provides an opportunity for networking among participants.

The talk is a good starting point for those who would like to learn more about suicide and attitudes surrounding the issue.

safeTALK, is around three hours in duration, and is training that prepares anyone over the age of 15 to identify persons with thoughts of suicide and connect them to suicide first aid resources.

Most people with thoughts of suicide invite help to stay safe. Alert helpers know how to use these opportunities to support that desire for safety.

As a safeTALK-trained suicide alert helper, you will be better able to:

- move beyond common tendencies to miss, dismiss or avoid suicide
- identify people who have thoughts of suicide
- apply the TALK steps (Tell, Ask, Listen and KeepSafe) to connect a person with suicide thoughts to suicide first aid, intervention caregivers.

Discussion and practice help stimulate learning. Learn steps that contribute to saving lives.

ASIST

Applied Suicide Intervention Skills Training

The ASIST workshop is about suicide first-aid; about helping a person at risk stay alive and seek further help.

The ASIST workshop is for caregivers who want to feel more comfortable, confident and competent in helping to prevent the immediate risk of suicide.

This is a two-day, highly interactive, practical, practice-oriented workshop and participation in the full two days is required.

As part of this course you will:

- Participate in small group discussions and skills practice that are based upon adult learning principles.
- Experience powerful videos on suicide intervention.
- Feel challenged and safe. Learn suicide first aid.

Evaluations have shown that the workshop increases knowledge and confidence to respond to a person at risk of suicide, that intervention skills are retained over time and that they are put to use to save lives.

Scotland's Mental Health First Aid (SMHFA)

The SMHFA course takes 12 hours to complete. It can be presented in a range of formats to suit different groups.

The following is a brief outline of what is covered on the course:

- guidance on being a Mental Health First Aider
- attitudes to mental health issues
- equalities
- the recovery message
- the impact of alcohol and drugs on mental health
- introduction to suicide intervention
- listening skills
- understanding depression
- how to offer first aid to someone experiencing depression
- understanding anxiety
- how to offer first aid to someone experiencing anxiety
- understanding psychosis
- how to offer first aid to someone experiencing a psychotic episode.

The course does not train people to be mental health workers. It offers basic general information about mental health problems. The knowledge presented and understanding developed in the course helps to remove stigma and fear and to give confidence in approaching a person in distress. Mental Health First Aid is an initial response to distress and all participants on the course understand that this help is given only until other suitable or professional help can be found.

What's The Harm? Self – Harm Awareness & Skills Training

This 1-day workshop aims to help dispel the myths about self-harm and equip participants to support people who may self-harm.

At the end of the programme, participants will be able to:

1. State a definition of self-harm, which recognises that it is predominantly a coping strategy.
2. Describe the difference between self-harm and suicide.
3. Discuss the spectrum of self-harm behaviour.
4. Describe the emotional, social and physiological factors that may underlie self-harming behaviours.
5. Reflect on your own feelings and reactions to self-harm and how these can impact on interventions.
6. Describe a range of appropriate and safe responses/interventions, including harm reduction.

Discuss issues which impact on working with self-harm within the context of your own workplace/ role
